Guidance Information

1 Definitions

Assessment materials may include but are not limited to – assessment tasks and/or activities, assessment schedules, assessor briefs, evidence guides, common assessment tasks.

Assessment terminology includes roles, qualities (validity, authenticity, sufficiency, currency, consistency, repeatability, fairness, transparency), professional judgement. Assessor is the one who makes the final assessment decision.

Candidate is the person who is being assessed against this standard, and cannot also be the assessor of the standard(s) being verified.

Contextual requirements refer to policies, procedures, and reporting requirements of the candidate's context. These could include those of a provider and/or client organisation.

Good assessment practice will occur when the assessor focuses on outcomes, gives due consideration to all performance criteria within the performance standard(s) and consistently judges, overall, that the candidate has provided sufficient valid evidence that the outcomes have been met.

Learner is the person whose performance is verified by the candidate.

Stakeholders must include assessor and learner, and may include observer. Other stakeholders may include, but are not limited to – employer, supervisor, tutor/trainer and standard setting body.

Standard(s) are statements of performance with measurable outcomes against which assessment occurs. Standards may include but are not limited to – Directory of Assessment Standards (DAS) unit standards, other national and international standards, organisational standards.

A verifier is someone who supports the assessment process by:

- verifying that the evidence provided by the learner is valid and authentic

- confirming that the learner's practice is in accordance with contextual requirements, and
- may include observing the learner completing practical tasks, and commenting on their performance.

2 Range

Evidence of a minimum of the verification requirements for two different standards is required. In the context of this standard, the verifier cannot also be the assessor of the standard(s) being verified.

Verification requirements must include – authenticity attestation and verification of learner performance, which may include on-job observation, documented evidence.

- 3 It is essential that the assessments providing evidence for this standard are conducted in real situations, which have not been artificially created for assessment purposes. Simulations should not be used for verification unless their use is common practice for the type of standard being assessed, e.g. Emergency Response.
- 4 All evidence submitted by the candidate must be verified by an observer. The observer must:
- hold unit standard 30421, or the New Zealand Certificate in Assessment Practice (Level 4) [Ref: 2752], or be able to demonstrate equivalent skills and knowledge in assessment;
 - or be a subject matter expert in assessment;
 - or be a context-specific subject matter expert with experience in assessment;
 - or be a supervisor or manager with experience in assessment.
- 5 All activities must conform to the procedures and requirements of any relevant standard setting body or quality assurance body, as well as contextual requirements.
